

Near-Hurricane Winds Lash Kingston, Cause Much Damage in 20 Minutes; County is Hit; Poughkeepsie Gets Worse Storm Than '38

Big Tree Smashes Roof of House

This is what a large tree did to the roof and porch of the John S. Stahl home, 277 Flatbush avenue, Tuesday night, when it was uprooted and snapped off by the hard wind and rainstorm that wrought havoc to properties and electric power lines in various areas of Ulster county. (Freeman Photo).

Poughkeepsie Put Under Emergency All Night; Utility Service Hit

The city of Poughkeepsie and most of Dutchess county are today recovering from the shock of the worst rain and windstorm to hit that area since the memorable hurricane of 1938.

With more than 2,000 telephones knocked out, power and communications lines blown down and service completely disrupted, the city of Poughkeepsie was declared in a state of emergency from near midnight last night until this morning.

Power was completely shut off in Poughkeepsie after midnight as a public safety measure because of the mounting number of power cables that were falling down.

Hyde Park, Pine Plains, Pleasant Valley and New Hackensack were the county areas that bore the brunt of winds that reached approximately 70 miles per hour.

The Army Air Force weather station at Stewart Field in Newburgh estimated the gales at 60 miles per hour, but Poughkeepsie officials said they were even greater in the Bridge City.

Exceeds Damage of 1938
Property damage could not be estimated early today but veteran observers said it would exceed that of the 1938 storm.

Hundreds of trees, barns and silos were blown down throughout Dutchess county and virtually every traffic artery was blocked at one place or another.

Dutchess county and state highway department crews worked throughout the night clearing up the damages and by early morning all roads were reported open to traffic.

Central Hudson and telephone officials told the Poughkeepsie New Yorker early today that they were not in a position to predict when complete telephone and power service could be restored in Poughkeepsie and Dutchess county.

Train Signals Are Out
The signal system of the New York Central Railroad between Poughkeepsie and Barrytown was out of order for nearly an hour after the storm and all trains proceeded at slow speed through that stretch of tracks.

In Poughkeepsie alone about 100 trees were uprooted and power and communication lines destroyed. Officials of the Dutchess County Farm Bureau reported farm damage throughout the county exhaustive.

State Lists $657,000 For Ulster Road Project
Bids on 13 projects for construction and reconstruction of 38.75 miles of state highway, including four portions of the Thruway, will be received on June 26 by Charles H. Sells, superintendent of public works.

One Ulster county project is listed: Preliminary grading and all necessary drainage structures and facilities for 2.63 miles of the Catskill Thruway, from a point one-quarter of a mile south of Canoe Hill Road northward to the Greene county line. No major structures are included in the work which is estimated at $657,000.

In Greene county's preliminary grading and drainage structures on 2.81 miles of the Catskill Thruway, from the Greene county line northward to Brook School House Road, estimated at $440,000.

Commandments Are Given
Trenton, N. J., June 12 (AP)—State Labor Commissioner Harry C. Harper yesterday announced "Ten Commandments" for migrant workers now coming into the state for the fruit and berry picking season. The list of commandments, ranging from admonitions to produce proper test records to refraining from using common drinking cups, will be posted in every labor camp in the state, Harper said.

Thunderstorms Kill 4 Persons in Eastern Area

Damage More Than a Million Dollars; Auburn and Elmira Take Beatings; Five Persons Reported Injured

(By The Associated Press)
At least four persons were dead and five others injured today as a result of wispish thunderstorms which beat courses of frequent hurricane velocity across southern New England, Central and Eastern New York and Northern New Jersey late yesterday.

The storms, which caused damage estimated at well over $1,000,000, came up with sudden fury. They were caused, the Weather Bureau said, by the joining of warm and cold fronts with intermingling shifting winds.

Apparently hardest hit in New York state was Auburn, a city of 25,000 population, which was whipped to hurricane speed. Mayor Edward T. Boyle called the storm the worst in the city's history and estimated damage at $1,000,000.

Elmira, in southern New York, hit by a flood two weeks ago and a severe storm three days ago, took another beating yesterday in a 45-minute thunderstorm which caused the death of a 17-year-old girl.

The victim was Barbara Crawford, valedictorian of Elmira Free Academy's senior class, who was killed at her desk when a tree crashed against a school building and a splinter of flying glass pierced her lung.

Also dead in New York state was Theodore (Ted) Ellenwood, 26, former Eastern States and Middle Atlantic Speed Skating Champion, who was killed by lightning while playing golf at the Antlers Country Club near Amsterdam.

Heavy crop damage was reported in the Utica-Rochester area and throughout the eastern part of the state. There were many reports of damage to power and communication lines.

Crop and tree-destroying "small tornadoes" whipped across sections of the western Massachusetts and northern Connecticut.

Fruit Area Escapes Severe Damage, Is Kurdt's Report on County

Localized thunderstorms followed by winds of near-hurricane force, lashed Kingston and vicinity about 5 o'clock Tuesday, caused widespread property damage, blew down telephone and power lines and disrupted communications in various parts of the city and surrounding area.

The storm—the second downpour of major proportions to hit Kingston in two days—streaked out of the Catskill mountains about 5:08 yesterday and within 20 minutes had left a trail of devastation.

Short-lived, but destructive, storm roared fearfully across the city coming in from the west and concentrating its fury in the up-town and middle sections from Albany avenue through the east to Chestnut street. The area around Flatbush avenue near the city home was hit severely.

Kingston and southern Ulster appeared to be the southern anchor of a series of localized thunderstorms and winds of hurricane velocity that roared northward along the eastern border of New York state and extended to the Adirondack mountains.

Wind Almost 70 M.P.H.
The storm varied in duration along the belt most seriously but lasted generally from 20 minutes to half an hour. The wind neared 70 miles per hour in many sections.

Central Hudson officials working rapidly to restore service to the badly hit area were looking for further storms late today, but the Weather Bureau said they would be light thunder showers and would not approach the intensity of the storms Saturday and last night.

The city and surrounding territory had hardly recovered from the shock of the first deluge, when a second storm broke loose about 4 a. m. today and caused additional damage.

900 Telephones Out of Order
C. E. Burnett, general manager of the New York Telephone Company said that approximately 900 telephones were knocked out of commission in the city and areas serviced by sub-stations in Rosendale, High Falls and Woodstock.

The disruption was equally divided between the city and county. Mr. Burnett said, with about 450 phones out in each section. Telephone crews were out late last night and back on the job early today. Approximately 25 per cent of the damaged facilities had been repaired by early morning. Mr. Burnett said 100 per cent telephone service would be restored by late today.

Damage to telephone service was caused principally by trees and branches falling down or blowing across telephone wires. The second storm that broke loose about 4 a. m. today caused additional water damage to cables in scattered parts of the county.

Most of the damage, Mr. Burnett said, was to lines running from telephone poles to business houses and residences. The poles withstood the shock of the high velocity winds in pretty good shape.

Full Force Is Called
Virtually every telephone company employee was pressed into service at the height of the emergency. Mr. Burnett said, and all efforts were concentrated on restoring communications as quickly as possible.

"We are in comparatively good shape," he told The Freeman. "Other areas in the Hudson valley, particularly Poughkeepsie and Hyde Park were particularly hard hit."

The Central Hudson Gas and Electric crews in the process of digging out from the effects of Saturday's storm were faced with even greater damages created by yesterday's near-twister. While

Aldermen Sanction $46,000 Bond Note For Sewer Projects

Note Money to Complete Roosevelt Park, Strand Jobs; Clerk Reads by Flashlight

Kingston's Common Council, meeting in a dimout session, due to storm damage to electric lines, unanimously adopted a resolution, Tuesday night, authorizing the issuance of a bond anticipation note of $46,000 to be used in carrying on construction of the Roosevelt Park outfall sewer and the sewage treatment plant on East Strand.

The heavy windstorm, accompanied by rain, which uprooted and broke trees, tossing them across power lines that snapped under their weight, darkened the city hall and forced Deputy City Clerk Harry Seitz to rely on the beam of a flashlight for the reading of the minutes at the special meeting called by Mayor W. F. Edelmuth.

The $46,000 note on the Roosevelt Park project and the sewage plant is being issued in anticipation of the sale of city bonds authorized earlier in the year by the Common Council.

Change Zoning Law
The aldermen also adopted the report of its laws and rules committee approving the application of Orville Kimbark to have the property at 32-34 Joy's Lane placed in the business zone. Mr. Kimbark plans to open a garage and repair shop.

A zoning ordinance changing the zoning of the property on Joy's Lane from the residential to the business zone was unanimously adopted.

Seyss-Inquart Justifies Looting Says Germans Considered Act 'Legal' in Netherlands

Nuernberg, June 12 (AP)—Arthur Seyss-Inquart, former Reichs-commissioner for the Netherlands, informed the International Military Tribunal today that the looting of Holland was considered "legal" by the Germans.

He said that Reich decrees had made legitimate the confiscation of Dutch treasures.

The prosecution presented records showing that Germans had been advised by their commanders that they could take from the Dutch "all they could carry."

Seyss-Inquart said he personally investigated and carried out orders to confiscate the fortune and property of the royal house be-

Curran Also Declares 'Long, Bitter' Strike Will Begin on June 14 Midnight

Washington, June 12 (AP)—Frank J. Taylor, a spokesman for the ship operators in the threatened maritime strike, reported today that the unions involved have rejected a new compromise offer on the work week for seamen.

Almost simultaneously, Joseph Curran, president of the C.I.O. National Maritime Union, said "a long and bitter strike" will begin Friday midnight, as scheduled, unless the seamen's work-week is cut or their pay boosted.

Both appeared before a House labor subcommittee.

Taylor, chairman of the negotiating committee for the Atlantic and Gulf Coast shippers, said the operators proposed to give the seamen a day off with pay for each week worked at sea.

"Yet this now offer was turned down," he said.

Employees Declare Explosion Victim Visited Whitcomb

Boston, June 12 (AP)—Two employees of the far-flung Great Northern Paper Company today identified positively a newspaper picture of a man killed in a New Jersey apartment-wrecking explosion as a visitor in the office of President William A. Whitcomb immediately before he was shot to death Monday.

Detective Matthew Egan said that Lester Smith, traffic manager of the firm, and Elizabeth Shannon, 23-year-old receptionist, identified the photograph of George E. Hardy, 48, of Westfield, N. J., as the man who walked calmly from Whitcomb's office shortly after employees heard a muffled sound. Police believe the killer used a silencer on the death weapon.

Smith said the man had a pistol in his hand. Miss Shannon, who greeted the stranger when he appeared at the office, said she was "sure" that Hardy was the man.

"The expression on his face is very familiar," Egan quoted her as saying after careful examination of the picture. "I'd say that is the man—yes."

"Are you sure," Egan asked. "Yes," the receptionist replied. Hardy died Monday night in the blast which wrecked his apartment. His wife, Emma, suffered severe burns.

Drove Him to New York
Police Chief John P. Schreiber of Westfield said that Mrs. Hardy told him that she drove her husband to New York Sunday and that he had planned to go Boston to look for a job with an Athol tool company.

Egan reported that Smith looked at the picture carefully and then said: "Yes, that's him." The detective said that he then asked the 71-year-old Brookline man if he was sure and Smith answered: "Yes, as sure as I can be. I particularly noticed the thickness of his nose."

The investigator said that a second employee, John McLeod, an engineer, also said that the picture "looked very much like the man."

Republicans Are Jubilant Over Recent Developments

Washington, June 12 (AP)—Republicans elatedly contended today that Democratic political prospects have dropped to a new low. They cite the Supreme Court explosion and the turmoil in majority party ranks produced by President Truman's veto of the Case Labor Dispute Bill.

Democrats generally didn't want to talk about the political implications of either controversy. Their attitude was that while neither could be regarded as helpful to party chances as a whole, it's a long time until the November elections and still longer until the 1948 presidential contest.

But Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Republican steering committee, told a reporter he feels the Democrats haven't done themselves any good. He added that the issues involved are not likely to be forgotten by voting time.

"These are just demonstrations of Democratic incompetency," he said. "There are likely to be others."

U. S. Court Feud Might Wait Out Sizzling Months

Summers Says Committee Will Get Jackson's Blast, but Expects No Action

Washington, June 12 (AP)—The sizzling Supreme Court feud appeared likely today to simmer along through the hot summer months without Congressional intervention.

Chairman Hatton W. Summers (D-Texas) said today he will place Justice Jackson's cabled blast against Justice Black before his House Judiciary Committee tomorrow but that he personally is disinclined toward any immediate action.

Summers told a reporter he prefers to wait until Jackson returns from Nuremberg, where he is serving as chief American prosecutor of Nazi war criminals.

Summers said the House Judiciary committee has no power of "visitation" on the courts—that is, it has no power to check up just to see if everything is going all right.

It does have the power of impeachment, but Summers asserted that nothing so far indicates that any such drastic action would be justified.

Rep. Michener (R-Mich) indicated sympathy with Summers' view that Jackson should be present at any investigation.

Rep. Kefauver (D-Tenn) another committee member, indicated an "airing" of Jackson's criticism over Black's action in not disqualifying himself from the portal-to-portal mine wage case in which his former law partner was one of the attorneys might point up the need for remedial legislation.

On the other hand Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.) another member of the committee said he didn't see what Congress could do about the controversy because "it involves only a judge's judgment of when he should disqualify himself."

Jackson is not expected to return to Washington until shortly before the new court term opens in October.

Carlson Is Awarded $156.80 Judgment Here

A judgment in the sum of $156.80 was directed by County Judge John M. Casnin in county court this morning in a negligence action brought by Henry A. Carlson of Flatbush against Thomas Perpetua Vincent G. Connelly against plaintiff. There was no defense. George Burroughs of Tannersville, brother-in-law of Carlson, testified he had borrowed the Carlson car on the evening of October 12, 1945, and was driving near Flatbush when the car of defendant approached. There was only one headlight on the defendant's car.

Burroughs testified that he pulled to the right of the road but the Perpetua car crossed to its left and struck his car damaging the left side. Repair cost $152.80 and Judge Casnin directed that this amount with costs be entered by judgment.

Jurors were excused until Monday afternoon, June 17 at 2 o'clock. Court recessed until that time.

President James Rowe announced that the much publicized and highly controversial Labor Relations Committee held its first meeting Monday. It was a harmonious meeting, Mr. Rowe said, and the committee formulated policies for future consideration.

Will Report on Projects
All standing committees were instructed to formulate a statement of policy and projects for a report at the next board meeting.

Secretary Don Williams reported that the Associated Hospital Service of New York will inaugurate a period of individual enrollment for the Kingston area early in July.

Previous enrollment was restricted to groups, but under the new setup small shopkeepers, merchants and individuals are eligible for membership. The directors approved use of the Chamber's office as headquarters for the campaign.

A two-man committee of Harry Rigby and Morris Samter, was authorized to determine ways and means of cooperating with the Ulster County Automobile Association in the furtherance of mutual projects.

Edwin L. Davey and J. K. Hartwell, new manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company office in Kingston were added to the Retail Committee. The Board of Directors unanimously adopted a resolution urging the Congress to do all in its power to place the federal government on a balanced budget system for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1946, and to promote the reduction of federal expenditures.

Bevin Says Anglo Rejection of U. S. Report Is Likely

Recommendation Jews Be Allowed to Enter Palestine Runs Into Snag

Bournemouth, Eng. June 12 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin indicated today the possibility that England would reject the British-American Commission's recommendation that 100,000 Jews be allowed to enter Palestine immediately.

Bevin spoke at the annual Labor Party conference on his conduct of British foreign policy. He declared:

"If we put 100,000 Jews in Palestine tomorrow I would have to put another division of British troops there. I am not prepared to do it."

"I must say to the Jews and Arabs. Please put your guns away. Don't blow up the British Tommy who is quite innocent in this business. You are creating another phase of the anti-Semitic feeling in the British army."

"I believe that if both sides did disarm peace and development would be much easier."

Bevin said Palestine "is a terrific problem really it is a colonial office problem, but I recognize that you cannot any longer leave it as a colonial problem. It is international."

"The agitation in the United States and particularly in New York for 100,000 Jews to be put into Palestine—and I do not want the Americans to misunderstand me—is because they do not want too many of them in New York," Bevin continued.

The foreign secretary said he was "extremely grateful to the United States for taking part in the Palestine Commission."

Part now in control of the British government had before it the 1939 white paper limiting Jewish immigration to Palestine.

Minister of State Philip Noel-Baker spoke before Bevin and said British foreign policy is dedicated to the belief "that we can make a world without war" and that it must be done "in the next ten years."

Opening a debate initiated by six resolutions, some of them praising and some critical of Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin, Noel-Baker scored the "intellectuals who sneered at this United Nations business and at the same time deprecated any optimism of those who thought they could make it a success."

One resolution asserting that "the only hope of a lasting peace lies in the international adoption of socialism," voiced regret at the government's "apparent continuance of a traditionally conservative party policy of non-intervention."

and urged a return to the Labor party foreign policy of socialist and anti-imperialist forces throughout the world.

Bevin Declares He Would Approve Separate Treaties

Bournemouth, England June 12 (AP)—Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin indicated today he would sign separate peace treaties with the former Axis powers and their satellites in Europe if pending foreign minister negotiations remain bogged down in disagreement.

I was asked would I sign a separate peace treaty contrary to the decisions arrived at during the war? Bevin told the annual conference of British Labor Party: "I don't know what steps we may take to get these treaties. But I say no one nation is going to keep me in a state of war forever with other countries."

"While I do not commit myself to any method," he continued, "the way will have to be found. We cannot go on this way. It is indefensible."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

A Postman's Life
Inglewood, Calif., June 12 (AP)—Postmen here have organized against the dogs.
Morris E. Winkelman, president of Branch 2980 of the National Association of Letter Carriers, reports that an average of three postmen are bitten weekly in Inglewood.

Bug Bomb
Chicago, June 12 (AP)—When policeman Walter Garrison returned home from work and found a bomb on his lawn he immediately put in a call to the police bomb squad.
Detectives James Garvey and Frank Grady responded and they picked up the bomb and took it to the laboratory on explosives at nearby Fort Sheridan.
Later the police bomb squad got a report: "It is a bomb used to release a gas for extermination of cockroaches and such insects."

Popoff Too Late
Chicago, June 12 (AP)—Two gunmen invaded Sam Cohn's tailor shop and after forcing him into a washroom started looting the establishment.
They didn't stay long, however. Cohn told police, because pent up steam began pouring from a safety valve on a pressing machine, apparently frightening the bandits.
"It was a fine whoosh and whistle," Cohn told police, "but it came too late. The bandits had taken $135 and two suits before the valve popped."

Those unable to attend the party were Carl Burlison, John Otis, Daniel and James Noble, William Van Acken and Robert Soper. (Freeman Photo).

Mass Chest X-ray Series Continues In Ulster County

The seventh in the series of mass chest X-ray surveys, sponsored by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, will be held on June 26 and 27. Cooperating in this program will be the Ulster County Highway Department, Hercules Powder Company, and three of the larger private institutions in the county.

To date, about 5,500 people of Ulster County have been X-rayed in these programs.
X-rays taken of employees of Van Slyke & Horton Cigar Company, Baitz Pajama Factory, and the city departments, and in the Ellenville High School are now being read at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital. A report to the home of every person X-rayed will be mailed out very shortly from the office of the Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Further information will be given to individuals interested in having a free chest X-ray by calling the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association at 74 John street in Kingston. Telephone 1164.

"The Star Spangled Banner" was designated as the U. S. national anthem in 1931.

Kingston School Is Featured Nationally

In the current issue of "School Executive," a national magazine which is circulated among architects and Boards of Education, is an article describing and containing pictures of the architect's drawing of the proposed public school which will be erected on the former Sahler Sanitarium property on Wall street in this city as well as school buildings proposed at Rhinebeck and Niagara Falls.

The local school building is designed by Harry Halverson, local architect, and is the first unit of the long range program for school improvements which is proposed under the Post War Planning Commission program. The school building on the Sahler property is scheduled to be the first unit of the plan to be constructed.

Jackson Takes Holiday

Nuernberg, June 12 (AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor in the war crimes before the International Military Tribunal, departed today for a five-day holiday in Oslo. He declined to make any further comment on his row with his colleague Justice Hugo Black of the U. S. Supreme Court, saying that he would stand on the written statement he made public Monday night.

Union Free School District Is Voted At Grahamsville

At a special school meeting held in Odd Fellow's Hall on Monday, June 10, at Grahamsville, voters of Consolidated School District No. 1 of the Towns of Neversink, Sullivan county, and Denning and Wawarsing, Ulster county, voted the consolidation into a Union School District by a unanimous vote.

Robert Many of Grahamsville acted as chairman of the meeting. Mrs. Pauline Rose of Sundown offered the resolution to create a Union Free School district. The vote was 102 in favor, none opposing.

After deciding on a nine man board of education, Dr. Karl Messinger of Grahamsville, Max Rubenzahl of Neversink, and Frank Smith of Lackawack Hill were elected trustees for a term of three years. Elected for a term of two years were William A. Chandler of Aden, Mrs. Albro Brown of Lackawack, and Nial Everett of Sundown. Van Furman of Lows Corners, Myers Groo of Big Hollow, and Ross Bonnell of Unionville were chosen to fill one year terms. The new board of education provides an unusually well distributed representation for such a large territory.

Machine Gives Super-Thin Body Tissue to Medicos

New York, June 12 (AP)—A whirling knife which rotates at a speed of 1,000 miles an hour has been developed to slice human tissue so thin that examination under an electron microscope is possible for the first time, it was announced today by the Inter-Chemical Laboratories.

A sort of super-scientific cousin of the machine which slices delicatessen cold cuts, the instrument can provide specimens of human and animal tissue as thin as one quarter-millionth of an inch.

It is expected to be of importance in medical research, for until now the thinnest tissue specimens available through other techniques were too thick for the electron microscope's rays to penetrate.

The high speed prevents the substance under examination from being crashed by the impact of the knife. The apparatus also is used to make micro-cuts of wood, leather, paper and plastics which previously could be examined under the microscope only after being shredded and normal structure destroyed.

Four sets of high precision ball bearings enable the knife, made of a tiny chip of razor blade steel, to travel at supersonic speeds without vibration. At top speed, the instrument emits a high pitched whine like a police siren. Because of the tremendous heat generated during operation, the apparatus can be turned on for only a few seconds at a time.

Reports Theft of Car

Joseph F. Butler of 133 Pearl street reported to the police department that his 1935 Chevrolet sedan had been stolen from in front of his home about 1 o'clock this morning. Mr. Butler said he had locked the doors of the car, and had the keys in his possession. The car was later found parked in front of the Masonic Temple on Albany avenue by Motorcyclist James Cullum.

Veterans Honored By Holy Name of Phoenicia Church

Sunday morning, June 9, there was held at St. Francis de Sales Church in Phoenicia ceremonies honoring veterans, who are members of the parish. The Holy Name Society of the parish sponsored the celebration and some 46 members received Holy Communion at the 9 o'clock Mass. The veterans attended the service in uniform.

Following the Mass of Thanksgiving for their safe return, a communion breakfast was served the Holy Name men and the veterans, who were the honored guests, by the women of the parish. Mrs. Louis Hallenbeck, a Gold Star Mother, was also an honored guest. The entire membership stood for one minute in silence for her son, John.

After the serving of the breakfast, a highly informative discourse was given by Andrew Daigle of New York city. His topic was "Spain Today."

Moore Estimates Big Fund for New York

Albany, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—State Comptroller Frank C. Moore estimates that New York city will receive "at least" $53,200,000 from the state during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Moore said yesterday that the sum represented the city's share from the "windup of the old shared-tax-system" as well as state aid under the Moore commission plan of per capita assistance to localities.

He said the amount compared with $48,000,000 the city received during the current fiscal year. The latter figure did not include $14,000,000 from the utility tax which could be used for debt retirement only.

The Moore plan, enacted by the last Legislature, provides that cities receive $6.75 per capita, towns $3.55, and villages, $3, instead of portions of various taxes.

High School Students Hear About G.I. Benefits

Two servicemen from the Kingston army recruiting station at the central post office visited high schools in Ulster county recently to talk to students about educational opportunities offered by the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Master Sergeant James R. Payne spoke at New Paltz High School, where he was introduced by Principal R. Cunningham, and Master Sergeant Harold J. Blanchard talked to the seniors at Highland High School, Principal A. Herbert Campbell introduced him. The sergeants explained the educational benefits offered under the G. I. bill to all men who enlist on or before October 5, this year. Each man who avails himself of this opportunity will be eligible upon discharge after 18 months to attend any college, trade or business school at government expense for a period of time equal to his enlistment time, plus one year.

Gemmell Re-Enlists For European Service

William C. Gemmell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Gemmell of 40 Liberty street, enlisted today in the regular army for three years. Gemmell told First Sergeant Moir L. Venable of the army recruiting station that he liked army life and planned to make a career of it.

Gemmell has almost five years service behind him, 17 months of which were spent overseas. When war broke out in 1941 he was a member of Headquarters Battery,

Admits Illegally Wearing Army Uniform

New York, June 11 (Special)—A plea of guilty to a charge of illegally wearing the uniform of a captain in the Army Nurse Corps was entered in United States District Court here today by Mrs. Isabelle Elizabeth Pascoe, 27, until recently of Martin's Cabins, Milton, Judge Francis G. Caffey ordered a probation report and said that he would impose sentence later this month.

Mrs. Pascoe came to the attention of F.B.I. agents recently when doctors in a Newburgh hospital, where she was employed, noticed her unusual technique in preparing a child for anesthesia. An investigation showed that she had obtained employment in the hospital and at least in two others in the Hudson Valley by wearing the uniform and by using a card purporting her to be a registered nurse.

Mrs. Pascoe is the mother of two children who reside with her father, Edwin Pascoe of 63 Schneider avenue, Highland Falls.

The first systematic effort to establish an organized government in Brazil was made in 1532.

156th Field Artillery, 44 Division, New York National Guard. Later he served overseas with the 736th Field Artillery, and participated in the battles for Normandy, Northern France, and Germany.

Gemmell is decorated with the Bronze Star medal and the Purple Heart. He is entitled to wear three combat stars on his European campaign ribbon. Gemmell chose the field artillery and the European theatre for his original assignment of his new enlistment.

Connecticut Has Second Bad Storm

Tobacco Crops Damaged, Lights Go Out

Hartford, Conn., June 12 (AP)—Northern Connecticut picked up wreckage today in the wake of the second severe summer storm to sweep across the area in four days, and harassed tobacco growers woefully surveyed new damage to their crops.

Lights blinked out last night in dozens of communities in Litchfield, Hartford and Tolland counties as high winds sent trees crashing across power lines. Telephone service suffered comparably, and highways were blocked by falling trees in several instances.

Waterbury lost about a dozen trees, two of them falling on automobiles, and a similar incident was reported in New Milford.

Projects Are in Operation

Albany, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—State-aided county reforestation projects are in "full scale operation," the Conservation Department reports. Matching county funds, the state has allocated a total of more than $31,000 for the work in Allegheny, Erie, Jefferson, Oneida, Otsego, Oswego, Schoharie, Sullivan, Saratoga, and Tompkins counties.

House of David Team Plays Recreations Tonight at Stadium

'Bearded Beauties' Will Make First Showing Since '42

Local Club Moguls Look For Big Turnout if Weather Holds Out; Starts 9 p. m.

Once again the Kingston Recreationists have two opponents lined up for their ball game at municipal stadium tonight. In addition to the famous House of David team, the local club had formidable opposition booked in the form of the weather man who has again made his presence felt. At 9 o'clock this morning Sid Lutzin said the game would be played, weather permitting.

Tonight's gala attraction, providing the weatherman gives his okay, is expected to attract one of the seasons best throngs to the up-town ball park. Ever since Lou Murphy's House of David team first appeared in Kingston that all-star road attraction has been a popular feature here yearly.

"We'll do our best to play tonight's game," Lutzin said this morning, "but if the weather does not clear up before noon it's very probable that the contest will be called early enough to notify the traveling House of David team."

Weather Hurts Club

So far this year in the three games against the Chance Voughts, Homestead Grays and New York Cubans the Reds have played before a total crowd of 4,362, a game average of only 1,454. The best throng of the year was in the stands for the opener against the Voughts when 2,138 patrons filed through the turnstiles. The all-low for the year was reached last Saturday night when only 284 fans turned out.

With a break in the weather the Recreationists would have played before 6,000 fans at least during these three tilts but as yet the climatic conditions have been all against the local team. Both the Homestead Gray and Cuban contests were played under unsuitable conditions for baseball.

Nichols to Pitch

Manager Joe Hoffman has

named George Nicholas to do the pitching in tonight's meeting with the Davids while Mike Janesko, one of the Bearded Beauties old-time favorites is slated to oppose him. Nichols was beaten in his first start last week by the Homesteaders.

Although the Davids are fielding a team for the first time since the outbreak of war this summer the club has already won attention from baseball lovers throughout the country. Featuring such great performers as Mike Janesko, veteran pitcher; Herb Wooden, Billy Black, Danny "Diggs" O'Leary, Lefty Claude Tarrant, and several others, the bewhiskered gents of the diamond are packing them into the stands in every game.

Bertelli Here Saturday
Angelo Bertelli's Springfield Browns will follow the House of David team into the stadium Saturday night for a week-end special. The former football great at Notre Dame is scheduled to play in left field for the Browns and advance reports say Bertelli is very accomplished on the baseball diamond as well in football togs.

Local fans are expected to flock to the local balljugg Saturday evening to see the famous Irish griddle in action. His presence here is anticipated to attract an even greater turnout providing the weatherman changes his attitude and decides to help the Recreationists out for a change.

Tonight's tentative lineups:

Canada-Mexico Davis Cup Drawings Today

Montreal, June 12 (AP)—The official draw for the Davis Cup tennis match between Canada and Mexico, opening at the Mount Royal Tennis Club tomorrow, will be made today by Luis Duplan, American consul general in Montreal.

Two singles matches are scheduled tomorrow, with doubles play Friday to be followed by the last two singles matches on Saturday. The winner will meet the survivor of the United States-Philippines tie in the northern American zone finals.

Hurls Tonight

GEORGE NICHOLIS

George Nicholas, righthander, will try for his first win of the year tonight at municipal stadium when the Kingston Recreationists engage the colorful House of David ball club. Nichols made his first start against the Homestead Grays last week and was charged with the loss although he didn't finish. Joe Job is slated to do the catching for him. (Freeman Photo)

Skiff Is Released As Seattle Pilot In Coast Circuit

Seattle, June 12 (AP)—Bald Bill Skiff, the quiet little guy from New Rochelle, N. Y., was on the baseball beach today and Coach Eddie Taylor was handling the Seattle Rainiers as the front office searched for a new manager for the Pacific Coast League cellar club.

The first game without Skiff was a 2-1 win over Los Angeles last night.

Jo Jo White, one-time star of the Detroit Tigers and now playing with Sacramento in the coast loop, was believed to have the inside track as Skiff's successor.

Skiff, who was given his release yesterday, packed his bags for an unannounced destination when owner Emil Sick relieved him on his job as manager of the last-place Seattle Rainiers.

Arriving from California with his team to open a seven-game series with the Los Angeles Angels, Skiff had told reporters he would "not quit under fire" when advised Sick had announced he would give the little skipper his release.

His contract had two years to run, but the second year was contingent upon the O. K. of the board of directors.

Skiff came here from the New York Yankee organization in 1940 when Jack Lelivelt died after piloting Seattle to a pair of pennants. Skiff added another flag to the team's staff and garnered two post-season play-off triumphs for Seattle during his reign.

This year the Rainiers have been far off the pace from the start and at present are on the bottom in the eight-club loop, 19 games behind front-running Oakland.

Mahoney Aces Win
With Bob Hunt pitching three-hit ball, the Mahoney Aces scored a 10 to 5 victory over Mayones earlier this week. The winners tied off on Arnie Adams for six deciding runs in the opening frame.

Westbury, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Washed out last night by rain, grand circuit harness racing will be resumed at Roosevelt Raceway tonight if the weather permits.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

3. Here is a player very well poised at the address. His stance is correct, the ball accurately positioned, weight evenly distributed on the feet and our player's head is slightly turned to the right which is sound golf because it's easier to hold the head in that fixed position when the backswing is at its top. And notice the way our player has the right forefinger crooked around the shaft of the club. That's right. The right forefinger should crook in this fashion and touch the tip of the thumb. This provides added leverage and every ounce of added leverage applied to the clubhead becomes a pound of power when expressed in the clubhead. Prior to reaching the address position we see pictured here, it is permissible, in fact desirable, for the player to make a few preliminary waggles with his club to relax arm tension. Play within your natural power range. The controlling factor in your power range is when you understand and practice swinging only as hard as you can swing with rhythm. When you pass the rhythm point you're slugging and when you slug it's sheer accident if the ball flies straight.

Walt Judnich, Browns—Sparked eighth inning rally with double after smashing homer in fourth frame of 6-2 triumph over Senators.

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Pinky Higgins and Rudy York, a couple of Detroit has been, are two big reasons why the Boston Red Sox are 10 games out front in the American League and a shoe-in if they can play 500 ball the rest of the way.

Higgins hasn't been around Fenway Park very long but in his latest start he has added over 100 points to his batting average with a sensational 17 for 30 (.567) clip in a Red Sox uniform. His season average to date is an ample .333.

Plugs Infield Gap

Cut loose by the world champion Tigers when they purchased George Kell from Philadelphia, the 37-year-old veteran third baseman has plugged the gap after Manager Joe Cavanah had experimented with third baseman Al Simmons, although his club's record of winning 41 of their first 50 games wouldn't indicate any serious difficulty.

York's average of .308 isn't quite as dazzling as Ted Williams', Dominic DiMaggio's or Johnny Pesky's but it's plenty above his .264 at Detroit last season. His 44 runs batted in gives him third place in the American and boosted his lifetime total to 980.

Higgins and York were in murderous hitting moods yesterday as the Red Sox came from behind to trounce Cleveland, 10-5. It was their 12th win in a 13-game streak that also includes a 12-inning tie. Higgins knocked in six runs with a homer, triple and two singles and York had a perfect 4 for 4 afternoon, including two doubles and a home run.

Bob Klinger, who was handed an outright release by Pittsburgh, got the decision on relief over Red Embree after Charley Wagner faltered.

With 104 games to go, the Sox can win only half of them, and still total 93 victories, five more than Detroit needed last year.

Newhouse Wins 10th

Hal Newhouse joined the 10-win circle by hurling the Detroit to an 8-3 decision over the New York Yankees. A 12-hit barrage that included round trippers by Hank Greenberg and Dick Wakefield ruined Manager Bill Dickerson's plans of revitalizing the Yanks with a new lineup. First Baseman Nick Etten's 513-game string was broken when he was benched for Johnny Lindell.

Doubles by Walt Judnich and John Berardino helped Tex Shirley and the St. Louis Browns down Washington, 6-2, beating Sid Hudson's shutout outscored Russ Christopher, as Chicago blanked the Athletics, 10-0, in a game marked by White Sox triple play. Luke Appling's double followed by an outfield fly and Whitey Platt's single provided the only run in the seventh.

Cards Thump Dodgers

Brooklyn's National League lead shrunk to one game when the Dodgers fell before St. Louis, 9-3. The largest night crowd of the year at Sportsman's Park, 29,273 watched the Red Birds humiliate the Brooks for the fourth straight time.

Although the Dodgers got off to a promising three-run lead on early homers by Ed Stevens and Pete Reiser, they tumbled to their fifth straight loss when the Birds started to hit Joe Hatten and Rube Melton. Enos Slaughter paced the attack with a pair of triples and a single, driving in three runs.

Johnny Vander Meer went the route for the first time this season, scattering eight hits to give the Cincinnati Reds a 3-2 edge over New York. A crowd of 18,911 sent the home attendance to 307,463—12,676 more than saw the Reds at home all last season.

Junior Thompson, a former teammate who hooked on with the Giants after his early-season release, was the loser.

Those amazing Phillies reeled off their 10th victory in their last 14 starts, drubbing the Chicago Cubs, 4-1. Five straight first-inning hits scored all the runs, leaving the Phils only one game behind the seventh-place Giants.

Hugh Mulcahy, who couldn't last the full nine innings, took the decision over Hank Wyse who failed to finish the first game.

Catcher Hank Camelli's triple with the bases loaded enabled Pittsburgh to top Boston, 5-3, in another night game.

Rip Sewell, although nipped for 11 safeties, recorded his fourth victory at Mort Cooper's expense.

O'Neill and Grimm Named Pilots for All-Star Contest

Steve O'Neill of the Detroit Tigers and Charlie Grimm of the Chicago Cubs have been officially named to lead the American and National League teams in the 13th Major League All-Star game at Fenway Park, Boston, Tuesday, July 9 the Associated Press said today.

A. R. Chandler, baseball commissioner, announced final arrangements for the game after a meeting with seven other club and league officials. Choice of O'Neill and Grimm followed the custom of selecting the managers of the previous season's world series contenders.

Chandler said 25 players would make up each league's squad to be selected by the league managers. In event of postponement, Chandler said the game would be played the following day at the same ball park.

Bruins Belt Fullers, 10 to 4; Hunt Hurls Four-Hit Contest

Larkin and Crosby Pace Hitting Attack for Winners; Amato Losing Flinger

With Al Hunt pitching four-hit ball, the Texas Lunch Bruins scored a 10 to 4 victory over Fullers Monday night at Block Park. Hunt pitched superbly, striking out six and issuing only one walk. Joe Amato worked for the losers and also pitched good ball. He fanned seven and saved up two free tickets. The Bruins reached him for nine hits.

The feature of the game was Ron Crosby's long home run drive into left field in the fourth frame with one runner on. Babe Larkin paced the attack for the winners with three hits including a double. Frank Mazzucca cracked out a pair of blows. Ben Stornes paced the losers with a brace of hits.

After taking a 2-1 lead in the first two innings of play, the Bruins pushed across two more runs in the fourth before the fireworks really started in the sixth and seventh stanzas. In that sixth Larkin opened with a double and went to third on Crosby's punt.

"Red" Emmick chopped a single through first which sent in Larkin. Mazzucca kept the rally alive with another bluff pushing Emmick to third. After Hunt fanned, Robinson kicked to Stornes in left and the fielder dropped the ball and two runners came across.

Fullers rallied for three runs in the bottom half of the sixth to make it a 7-4 game. Amato fled to right and Myers popped to Cooper before the uprising started.

Sloat Rowland grounded to third and reached first safely when Emmick's throw pulled Ten Brock off first. Johnny Rowland worked Hunt for the only walk. Successive singles by Stornes and Smith did the damage.

The Bruins got three more insurance runs in the seventh when Freer, Ten Brock and Larkin bunted. Crosby fled to right scoring two runs. Smith's error allowed Emmick to reach first and on the boot Larkin raced across the rubber.

Cood Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

THERE IS NO SUCH RULE

Ever since the beginning of the war, occasional readers have asked me to help in doing away with the supposed requirement of manners that a small amount of food be left uneaten on one's plate. Today, again, came this letter: "We, the teachers in this town, are finding it difficult to introduce the new food-saving practice of eating everything on one's plate. To the starving people of the wartorn countries, the sum total of those last bites would seem like manna from heaven."

There never was a rule directing anyone to leave uneaten food on one's plate. To quote from my book, "Etiquette": "The suggested saving to be made by eating everything on one's plate and leaving no food for manners is evidently a confusion of the word 'plate' with 'platter'. To leave a portion on the platter (or in the dish) because a guest might like another helping was good manners. But deliberately to leave a portion of food on one's own plate was never accepted etiquette. In fact, the maxim of frugality is, 'Food left on your plate is a wicked waste, because it must be thrown away. Food left in the dish is saved for another day.'"

Also, I might quote one other paragraph in the same chapter on table manners that is misunderstood equally: "Certainly you may sop bread into gravy or into sauce of every kind, but it must be done properly—by laying a fairly small piece down in the gravy, covering it completely and eating it with knife in right hand and fork in left. Continental fashion."

The Second Engagement Ring
Dear Mrs. Post: Should a widow divorcee accept an engagement ring and where would she wear it if she did?

Answer: Certainly she wears a new engagement ring just as she will wear a new wedding ring. She, of course, removes any ring she is wearing on the third finger of her left hand and replaces them (or it) with the new ring.

How should newspapers be notified of an engagement? Send for Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Announcing The Engagement," in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Parsons Speaker At Communion Breakfast

Gardiner, June 12.—Eighty members of the Rosary and Altar Guild Societies of St. Joseph's Church of New Paltz and St. Charles Church of Gardiner, attended their annual Communion breakfast at the Gardiner Hotel, Sunday.

Following serving of the delicious breakfast, Mrs. Giles Randall, Sr., president of St. Joseph's Altar Guild, acted as toastmistress and introduced the guest speaker, Miss Everice Parsons, Ulster county Home Bureau agent.

Mrs. Parsons' talk on woman's influence in the world being determined by her judgment in placing correct spiritual and material values on the scheme of things in her every day living, held the keen interest of her listeners. She was inspirational and thought-provoking in her timely and intelligent suggestions.

Following brief remarks by Mrs. John Tizio of New Paltz and Mrs. Philip Donahue of Gardiner, the remaining time was devoted to remarks by the Rev. George Fagan, pastor and moderator of the various societies. In a few well chosen words of greeting he thanked Miss Parsons for the giving of her time and for her splendid talk. He also thanked the women for their fine cooperation and pleaded for its continuance.

All Fliers Are Killed
Gallatinburg, Tenn., June 12 (AP)—An Army B-29 Superfortress crashed into Clingman's Dome in the great Smoky Mountains National Park near here and all 10 or 11 men aboard were killed. The plane was reported today. The plane was understood to be en route from Tampa, Fla., to Chicago.

Price Control Panel Cites Illegalities

The Price Control Panel of the Kingston Rationing Board today issued the following statement:

"In view of the many complaints from consumers who claim they are being compelled to buy other articles, singly or in quantities, in order to secure a scarce article, the local Price Control Board rules that any attempt on the part of a dealer to force such purchases is illegal and a violation of O.P.A. regulations—and such cases should be reported immediately.

Bread and Rolls Prices Increase

O.P.A. Says Production Costs Are Greater; Relief Aid Seen

Washington, June 12 (AP)—The price of that elusive loaf of bread advanced a penny today with O.P.A. approval.

The increase is effective immediately, along with a price boost of one cent a dozen for bread rolls.

The higher prices apply to all kinds of bread except rye, which went up two cents a loaf April 30. Prices are being raised, O.P.A. said, because bakers' production costs have climbed as a result of a 25 per cent cut in the amount of flour they may use. The reduction was ordered to help meet famine relief requirements.

O.P.A. said that before the flour cut, bakers made a "small profit" by spreading their costs over a large output of bread loaves. It added that the effect of trimming production has been a substantial increase in the cost per loaf.

For this reason, O.P.A. said, bakers "no longer are in a position to continue selling at prices 'frozen' at March 1942 levels."

The price increase, the agency continued, "is designed to assure consumers of an adequate supply of bread and bread-type rolls as is consistent with the President's famine emergency program."

An O.P.A. official estimated that actually the cost of bread now is about two cents more a loaf than it was prior to June 1, when the Agriculture Department ordered the weight of loaves cut by 10 per cent without a corresponding price reduction.

Near-Hurricane Lashes Kingston

The worst effects of the storm were felt in the uptown section of the city, damage to Central Hudson installations was pretty general throughout the district and struck about the same areas as Saturday.

Stone Ridge Is Hit

Stone Ridge was particularly hard hit by the cyclonic winds. Several trees were reported down and all power was blown out last night. Partial service was restored late last night but the early morning storm again blew everything out of commission.

The gales rained havoc along a belt from Stone Ridge to the Ashokan Reservoir area. Severe damage to property and communications was reported in Whitfield and Mettacaohonts.

The storm unleashed its full fury on Stone Ridge for only about five minutes at approximately 5:20 P.M. Sturges, operator of the Sturges Food Lockers said. All power in the area was immediately disrupted but telephone communications were not interrupted.

A huge tree fell on the residence of Lester Roosa, superintendent of schools in Stone Ridge, but caused only slight damage. Another falling tree caused about $25 damage on the Thomas Arra garage, while the smaller of two houses owned by Matthew Hasbrouck was hit by a tree with only minor damage.

Power in the entire area was disrupted until nearly 12:30 p. m., Sturges said. Service at the food lockers was not restored until 1:30 a. m.

The power failure became general again when the wind and rain struck at 4 a. m. and service was not restored until 8:10 this morning.

Hundreds of fallen trees were reported in the High Falls area. The "four-corners" in the village of High Falls were blocked and traffic re-routed past the High Falls firehouse during the peak of the storm. Flares were used to light the road.

The storm was not without its amusing sidelights. Earle Battelle Jr., who operates a chicken farm in Allgerville, reported that 73 of his best hens were electrocuted by lightning.

The Saugerties-Woodstock section although deluged by the heavy rainfall escaped the serious effects of the downpour.

Some damage was noted in Bearsville and Lake Hill.

Route 9-W Blocked

Route 9-W was blocked by falling trees in five places south of Kingston between Highland and Esopus. Traffic was halted at the John O. Beaver estate at Esopus, the Wittwyck School at West Park and a half mile west of Broglio. Residents of the vicinity aided members of the State Highway Department in cutting off branches of felled trees.

Only one-way traffic was permitted through the areas hardest hit and troopers from the Lake Hill and Esopus police departments directed traffic. Traffic was restored to normal by 10:30 last night and the roads cleared of trees and branches by the State Highway Department.

Electric light lines were damaged in the Esopus-West Park district where one of the most severe centers of the storm was concentrated. Port Ewen reported no wire damage. The Connelly-St. Remy road failed to escape the intensity of the deluge and damage was reported great, particularly to the Central Hudson transformer at St. Remy.

High Falls Is Stung

High Falls residents were severely stung by a fury of the storm while some trouble was reported in Creek Locks. Rosendale appeared hardly affected, while the fury of the shower was spent just south of Stone Ridge. Not much damage was reported in Ellenville.

Street circuits were out in many sections of the city of Kingston from broken wires, Edwin T. Strong of the Central Hudson reported.

The circuits were turned off until the affected areas could be patrolled and damaged wires removed before circuits were turned on to prevent injury from live wires.

Most street lights in Kingston were restored by midnight. Mr. Strong said the Central Hudson marshalled every available man for emergency crews and that approximately 90 per cent of service was in use by midnight. Some lights, however, were off all night.

All available crews worked throughout the night and will be busy repairing damages today, Strong said.

Due to telephones being knocked out, the Central Hudson had to depend on messengers to get an accurate survey of damages in the surrounding territory.

By-Pass Area Affected

In the city the Flatbush avenue and East Chester street by-pass area felt the worst shock of the storm. A huge tree was blown across the roof of the J. Stahl residence at 277 Flatbush avenue causing severe damage to the roof and windows on the north side of the house. Mr. Stahl's family was in the house at the time but all occupants escaped personal injury.

A large tree near the Everett Van Kleeck garage on the by-pass was uprooted but caused no property damage.

The Hasbrouck avenue bus line was forced to detour from its regular route over Clinton avenue because of a large tree that was uprooted near the Sam Hillebrand residence opposite the City Garage.

The Board of Public Works called out all emergency crews that worked until 11 o'clock to clear all city streets of fallen branches, trees and debris whirled about by the heavy winds.

Two Fires Reported

The Kingston Fire Department was called out twice during the height of the storm. One call was to extinguish burning electric wires at 367 Albany avenue and the other for a fire at the residence of Dr. Harold Clark on Hurley (000 24-quart crates.

High Winds Give Auburn Its Worst Storm, Mayor Says

Girl Valedictorian Dies, Former Skating Champ Killed; Elmira Gets 57-Mile Winds

Syracuse, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Central, southern and eastern New York mopped up today in the wake of a series of destructive thunderstorms, accompanied by high winds and heavy rain, late yesterday, which killed at least two persons and caused property damage running into millions.

Apparently hardest hit by the storms, which disrupted power and communications and halted activities of two newspapers, was central New York city of Auburn, population 35,000, where Mayor T. Boyle called the storm the worst in the city's history and estimated damage at $1,000,000.

Elmira, in southern New York, already flood and storm ridden, underwent a new 45-minute storm. The U. S. Weather Bureau at Albany characterized the storms as series of local thunderstorms. More thunderstorms, today, ending by afternoon in the western half of the state, but continuing into evening in the east.

Utility companies worked through the night restoring disrupted power and communication lines.

Girl Is Killed

Barbara Crawford, 17-year-old valedictorian of Elmira Free Academy's senior class, was killed at her desk when a tree crashed against a school building. A splinter of flying glass pierced her lung.

Second victim was Theodore (Ted) Ellenwood, former eastern states, and middle Atlantic speed skating champion and winner of avenue. Damage at both places was negligible.

Downtown Kingston and the Rondout area escaped the severity of the deluge which left havoc in other sections, although the section was deluged by the rain.

Working feverishly Central Hudson restored service to the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals and Station WKNY. In the meantime crews were busy in other sections. Mr. Strong of the Central Hudson reported that more than 1,000 calls of emergency and varied nature were received by the company necessitating the use of six telephone operators to handle the flow of telephone traffic.

The Kingston Daily Leader suffered its worst power emergency since 1938, being without service from the time the storm hit until nearly 10 o'clock.

At the Babcock Farms property in the Rondout valley a large tree was knocked down and from that point almost to the hamlet of Huley the roadway was strewn with broken tree limbs.

R.P.W. Gets Tree Reports

Reports on location of trees and wires down were received from the Board of Public Works and the Police Department were: North Manor avenue, large tree; and wires down, street blocked. Mary's avenue, near West Chestnut street, road blocked with trees and wires.

Smith avenue and Elmendorf avenue, Albany and Ten Broeck avenues, 12 Fonckochke street; Oak street and Franklin; Hurley avenue, near 222 large tree on the road; Johnston avenue and 277 Flatbush avenue.

A large tree fell on the Senate House grounds but did not touch the historic building. When the tree fell in front of the Hillebrand residence on Clinton avenue, forcing detour of the Hasbrouck avenue bus line, it brushed over a car parked at the curb. A man seated in the car was not injured but the smaller limbs of the tree lay across the front of the car and caused minor damage.

Fruit Damage Not Too Bad

Albert Kurdt, county agricultural agent, reported that while hail damage was repeated on fruit orchards in southern Ulster the effects of the storm were not as severe as earlier painted. Some small fruit was badly affected, he said, as some grape vines striped. Most of the damage was caused by the heavy winds, Kurdt said.

Hail damages which seriously affected a strip of land near Marlborough and Plattkill during Saturday's storm were repeated but to a lesser extent. Yesterday's hail storm, Kurdt reported, struck just south of New Paltz and near Clintondale causing about 10 per cent damage to the fruit crop.

The Highland and Ireland Corners fruit belts both pelted by both storms were seriously affected, Kurdt said, but damage estimates fell far short of earlier predictions. A few farmers were followed a freak path and there was no concentrated damage.

Marlborough was particularly hard hit Saturday, but the fruit crop is far from wiped out, the county agent noted. The area south of Marlborough miraculously escaped damage. In the farm belt north of Plattkill some farmers were hard hit, he said.

Berry Crop Continues

Trenton, N. J., June 12 (AP)—Consumers will continue to enjoy New Jersey strawberries until the end of the month, the State Department of Agriculture said today. Due to cool weather and ample rainfall the berries which first appeared on the market as early as May 20 the state will have a harvest season of nearly six weeks, growers predicted. Based on observations made May 1, statisticians estimated approximately 2,300 acres of strawberries will be harvested in the state in 1946 with production reaching almost 182,000 24-quart crates.

Thunderstorms Kill 4, Injure 5

Two men were killed when a tree crashed into their auto in Greet Barrington, Mass.

Harassed Connecticut tobacco growers, who suffered an estimated half-million dollars damage in storms Saturday, today woefully surveyed new damage to their crops.

In New Jersey, the storms cut irregular paths, leaving some communities drenched and adjoining localities dry. In Philadelphia, the city's fire alarm system was seriously impaired when lightning knocked out 200 alarm boxes. An aircraft building at the Naval Base was struck by lightning, causing a fire which was quickly extinguished by firemen at the base.

In Western Illinois heavy rains were reported. At Monmouth 5.8 inches were recorded overnight and in other sections three inch drenchings rained out a developing heat wave. In Chicago showers followed yesterday's 92.

The storm came two weeks after a Chemung river flood caused heavy damage and three days after a twister felled 400 trees and blacked out the city's lighting system last Saturday.

At Ithaca, a 20-minute storm disrupted electric and telephone service. A power blackout prevented the Ithaca Journal, an afternoon newspaper, from completing its press run.

Claverack appeared hardest hit in the Hudson valley. The State Police Teletype System was out of commission for several hours. Telephone service was disrupted and hail damaged gardens.

Vehicular traffic was rerouted on Route 9 near Styvessant Falls when a large tree fell across the highway. Heavy rainfall at Duaneburg and Cherry Valley flooded streets and caused rerouting of traffic.

Bo' McMillin Will Seek Double-Coaching Triumph

Chicago, June 12 (AP)—Silver-haired Alvin (Bo) McMillin, who guided Indiana to a history-making first Big Ten title last fall, will gun for another football precedent this year, seeking the first double coaching triumph in the 13-year-old College All-Star Series.

McMillin, who in 1938 directed the All-Stars to a 28-16 triumph over the Washington Redskins, last night was selected to head the collegians against the Los Angeles Rams, National Football League Champions, at Soldier Field August 23.

Thank you to the United States Army, the approaching Joe Louis-Billy Conn world's heavyweight championship fight has had "the biggest build-up in the history of fistfights," according to the current, June 13, Saturday Evening Post.

In an article, "The Biggest Fight Build-up in the World," sports writer Stanley Frank declares the war was not fought "for the greater glory" of Louis, Conn or Promoter Mike Jacobs, "but the $3,000,000, plus, they will whack up for the demonstration of dubious artistic calibre is largely a by-product of it."

He points to the controversy stirred up in 1942 by the Army's proposal to sponsor a fight between the two, then in the service. The bout was called off by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson when it was found that a sizeable chunk was earmarked to wipe out debts of the participants.

"The net result," the article states, "was only to whet the appetite of that curious individual, Joe Public, for the fight—he began looking forward to the day it could be held."

The Special Services Division of the Army unwittingly collaborated in restoring the fighters' goodwill by sending them on extended tours of this country and Europe, which kept their names before the public and lifted them out of the anonymity blanketing other celebrities in uniform," the article continues.

"Army and civilian papers freely quoted both, since they made newsworthy comments on their postwar flight. Approximately 1,000,000 soldiers, each a potential customer, saw their boxing exhibition at army installations and kept the conversational fire burning, certainly no detriment to future trade."

This "unparalleled build-up" will result in the largest gate in boxing history.

In the same article Mike Jacobs reveals some of the fundamentals in successful promotion.

"The day the ticket sale opens, you unload 25 per cent of the total," he is quoted. "After that, the show's gotta build every day. If it stops, it's flopping and you steam it up. A week before the fight, you gotta have 75, 80 per cent of all your money, with the rush seats to come. Scaling the house is as important as picking the fighters. The big buyers of ringside seats, like advertising agencies, distillers and distributors, want to impress guys they do business with. They want to give away something big, better a twenty-five-dollar ticket than one that costs five bucks."

FREEMAN SUMMER LEAGUE

Team 2 took over the Freeman Summer League at the Central Recreation alleys Tuesday night by scoring a clean sweep over Team 4. Roland Post enjoyed another big night at the mid-town lanes when he bashed out an acceptable 534 series to spark his club to the three triumphs. Post came up with individual scores of 202, 144 and 188. Tom LaPolt hit 415 for the losers.

In the other match last night Team 3 captured two decisions from Team 1 behind Jack Hartman's three-time of 313. Hartman blasted 151, 201 and 161 to lead his club. Pearson had a 461 series for the losing legions.

The standings:

Gailey, Jr., 78 Brewster street, and Mr. and Mrs. John Stopkie and son, Walter, of 76 Brewster street. The guests of honor left this morning by automobile for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will make their home. Seated are Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gailey, Jr., who will live with their son, John T. Gailey, 3rd. Standing, Mr. and Mrs. John Stopkie, John T. Gailey, Jr., was employed for the past 15 years by the Universal Road Machinery Co. as yard foreman. John Stopkie recently returned from service in the army. (Freeman Photo).

PORT EWEN NEWS

Port Ewen, June 12—Mrs. Ole Christensen of Connelly, Mrs. Eltinge Ellsworth, Mrs. John Henry, Mrs. James Slight and Mrs. Robert Torrens, Jr. attended the picnic of Girl Scout leaders Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Sanger Carleton of Stone Ridge.

The members of Brownie Troop 44 will not attend the play day in Kingston on Saturday, but will have a hike and picnic at the home of the leader, Mrs. Robert Torrens, Jr. on June 22. There will be no regular Friday meetings either this week or next. The picnic June 22 will be the final meeting of the season.

There will be a court of awards and fly-up service for Girl Scout Troop 44 and Brownie Troop 44, June 20, at 3:30 p. m. in the Girl Scout room in the Reformed Church. Parents of the girls are invited to attend.

Mrs. J. Barnhart of Brooklyn and Miss Emily Meyer of Garden City spent several days with Mrs. Barnhart's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Groves.

Miss Lucille Windram spent the week-end in New York city as the guest of her sister, Miss Gloria Windram.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kane spent Sunday with Miss Gladys Hovraut of Waicon.

Albert Siebert, C.M.M. of Hudson, is visiting Mr. Siebert's mother and sister, Mrs. William Siebert and Miss Bertha Siebert.

Mr. and Mrs. James Alory were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James H. King for the week-end.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Groves were the Misses Celia and Margaret Howard, Mrs. Nellie Livingston, R. White and Mr. Groves' brother, William Groves, all of Newburgh.

The Dorcas Society met last evening in the Reformed Church hall. The business meeting was preceded by a pot-luck supper.

May Wear Heavies
Ossining, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Sing Sing prison's inmates may have to endure a long, hard summer in heavy winter underwear.

Warden William E. Snyder said last night that summer underwear, sheets and pillow cases were scarce due to a shortage of muslin, cotton cloth and other fabrics.

Dance at Ashokan
Ashokan, June 12—The Ashokan Rod and Gun Club is sponsoring a dance tonight at the Pheasant Inn. The public is cordially invited.

Visits Added Cities
Saratoga Lake, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—State Democratic Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick visits three more northern New York state cities today for conferences with county party leaders.

Fitzpatrick, who is scheduled to confer here and in Lake Placid and Plattsburgh, yesterday conferred with Democratic leaders at Ogdensburg, Lowville, and Watertown. In an interview at Ogdensburg, Fitzpatrick said "our contact with people in the St. Lawrence valley has disclosed considerable opposition" to Governor Dewey's farm program.

Pari-Mutuel Makes $4,031,761 for State

Albany, June 12 (AP)—New York state received pari-mutuel revenue of $4,031,761 from the 24-day spring race meeting at Belmont Park, the State Tax Commission reported today.

Although the total exceeded last year's 18-day meeting figure by 26 1/2 per cent, the daily average "take" dropped from $177,063 last year to $167,990 this spring, or 5.1 per cent. The 1945 spring meet yielded $3,187,141.

Attendance this year totalled 709,729, compared with 511,235 in 1945.

Pheasant Losses Feared
Albany, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Although the state's pheasant breeding program will supply 100,000 to 150,000 birds this season, rain may have caused "serious" losses to the wild crop, says the Conservation Department. Commissioner Perry B. Duryea reported last night that the wet nesting season in May and June probably would result in low pheasant populations next fall.

Trees Are Blown Down on Hurley Avenue

Ulster Elms Are Not Hard Hit by Beetles Up to Now

Although general concern is being shown in the eastern part of the United States over damage by elm leaf beetles, the pests have not struck too hard in Ulster county as yet.

Albert Kurdt of the Ulster County Farm Bureau told a reporter today that the beetles have not invaded this area in alarming proportions, but said reports from Westchester county say that section is feeling their destructive influence.

The adult elm leaf-beetles emerge from their winter quarters in barns and attics in early June begin depositing their eggs in light yellowish-orange clusters on the underside of leaves. Eggs laying continues for a month. A single beetle may deposit as many as 600.

The grubs emerging from the eggs feed only on the under surface of the leaf, devouring the more tender part. They complete their growth in 15 to 20 days. When they are about one-half inch long, they descend the trees wholly or in part and transform to a golden-yellow oval pupae. The greenish, black-lined beetles about one-quarter inch long emerge a week or so later.

Advice from a tree expert is to spray the underside of the leaves with a stomach poison spray such as arsenate of lead. Spraying early is preferable, but there is still time to prevent major damage.

Prior to the war, Ulster county was threatened by the beetles, but a project conducted in conjunction with New York state helped to overcome them. The enterprise was discontinued because of war demands. Mr. Kurdt said he knew of only one elm tree that had been destroyed by the pests in Ulster Park during the pre-war period.

Lions Will Hold Anniversary Party

Event Scheduled July 2

Discussed at the regular Tuesday meeting of the local club, and entertainment for the meeting was furnished by Harry Gold who presented Herbert Greenwald of the Greenwald Travel Agency in an illustrated lecture on Nassau, Bahamas.

Wall Cleaning

To clean walls, move the brush from the bottom up, not the top down. Dust hangs down, and the upward motion lifts it off without danger of streaking.

As advertised in Life and Saturday Eve. Post

Twaalfskill Hose Co. To Be Host to Veterans

This evening, the Twaalfskill Hose Company of Wilbur will be host to the veterans of World War II who have returned from service, as well as the veterans of the first war.

A banquet and reception will be held for veterans and members from 7 to 9 o'clock. Mayor William F. Edelmutt and the Board of Fire Commissioners will attend as guests of the hose company.

At 9 o'clock the families and friends of the veterans are invited to join the festivities. Pardee and Allen will furnish music for old-fashioned and modern dancing.

Trooper Charges Driver With Being Reckless

Ferdinand Plechinger of New Hyde Park, N. Y., was arrested this morning by Corporal Ray Dunn from the Highland State Police barracks following an accident at the junction of Church and Main street, Highland, in which the Plechinger car and that of Tony Williams of Highland was involved.

Plechinger was charged with reckless driving and taken before Justice Walter Seaman at Highland where a $10 fine was imposed. No one was injured. The accident, Williams charged, happened when the Plechinger car crossed over the center line to its left on the curve colliding with the complainant's car.

He's of that build and that type of face."

McLeod told police he was in Vice President William McKay's office, adjoining Whitcomb's, when he saw the killer come out holding the gun "in both hands." A moment later, he added, he observed the company president sprawled in a chair.

Former Wife Quoted

Meanwhile, Maine police quoted Mrs. Ethel Hardy, former wife of the Westfield blast victim, as saying that he had been employed by Great Northern as a machinist about 16 years ago.

The woman, who now lives in Milwaukie, Me., said she had been divorced from Hardy 14 years ago. The couple's 18-year-old daughter, Dorothy, will graduate from high school today.

The Westfield explosion occurred shortly after Police Superintendent Edward W. Fallon had ordered a check of every known "George E. Hardy" in the east in tracing an unsigned contract found on Whitcomb's desk.

The contract set forth that the 73-year-old paper magnate would guarantee the "party of the second part, George E. Hardy," a $25,000 a year lifetime job. Police expressed ed the belief that the slayer tried to force the paper executive to sign it. The assassin gained admittance to the former Yale football player's luxurious downtown office by posing as a government treasurer agent.
